fect' for couple

By FLORENCE MEEKS ANP Staff Writer At last count, Joe and Miriam Duffy shared their Romulus home with two teenagers and 20 Siamese Cats.

The exotic felines became a passion for the Duffy's two and a half years ago, and now they cannot imagine life without them.

Still relatively new to the world of breeding and cat shows, the couple displays dozens of ribbons on a kitten cage in their home.

Most recently, one of their males won a blue ribbon at the Purina/Cat Fanciers' Association Invitational Cat Show, staged in November in St. Louis. The competition is the biggest pedigreed cat show in North America.

The Duffys said fate was on their side during the Missouri show. Their kitten's full name is Meet Me in St. Louis.

Miriam Duffy explained their first run-in with a Siamese occurred years ago at a local animal shelter. The couple had been regular visitors, but it was an elderly male Siamese that hooked Joe.

Romulus residents will receive a survey in their mailboxes, asking whether they would pay a mill increase to convert South Middle School into a community center.

The survey says remodeling the aging school building would cost approximately $6.1 million. To fund it, the district would levy an additional 1.4 mills per year for the next 20 years.

City council Monday night approved a survey which also asks residents what kind of recreation activities they want.

A consultant will be responsible for compiling the informa-tion from the citywide survey and presenting it to council.

Mayor Beverly McAnally presented the proposed survey to council. She said it would cost $6,000. Additional cost will come from mailing.

The idea for a survey came two months ago when the aging building was scheduled for demolition by the Romulus Board of Education.

They claimed repair problems and the presence of potentially dangerous asbestos made the building a liability to the district.

tested the board decision. They pointed out the 1930 building served as the first Romulus high school.

They called the building part of city history and suggested it be restored and transformed into a community center.

Residents who live near the Olive street building oppose the idea, saying neither the city nor the school district can afford such a project. They claim the building is an eyesore that lowers the value of their homes.

The approved survey presents residents with a list of 24 activities and asks when the respondent last participated in one of them.

Also listed are 46 potential activities. Residents will be asked which they would participate if they were offered at a community center.

Other questions include problems that keep residents from participating in recreational activities, current sources of recreation, willingness to teach and important factors in choosing recreation.

"It is our hope in presenting this survey...that we will have a good idea of not only what the people in the community think they need, but what they will do," McAnally told council were going to adopt the cat when she saw her husband on the floor cuddling the kitty.

"There's a bad misconception about Siamese," she said.

They have a reputation for meanness. Miriam said Siamese make wonderful pets and in some ways resemble dogs.

"They play fetch. They wait for you at the door. They listen for the sound of your car," she said.

After a brief period with their adopted "child," the couple decided to explore the possibility of breeding.

Finding cats was a timeconsuming process, Miriam said. Most breeders are cautious about selling cats without a promise to neuter.

'You want to keep the line pure," she said.

Finally established as breeders, the Duffys now have eight permanent cats. The remain-

The school Parent Teacher Organization purchased two 25-inch televisions for $759. Members also purchased a video cassette recorder for $354 and two stands for $450.

Grant is approved for park update

By FLORENCE MEEKS ANP Staff Writer

Plans for the Romulus Historical Park took a large step forward last week when state officials announced the city will receive a $192,000 Michigan Recreational Bond Grant.

The grant marks the second attempt to obtain state funding for the park, which will be located off Hunt Road near Bibbins Street.

Members of the Romulus Historical Society are now renovating a one-room school house on the site.

Jeff Martell, Romulus housing and planning specialist, said the grant comes from a $7 bond program approved by Michigan voters in 1988.

The money is meant to improve recreation facilities throughout the state, Martell said.

Working with Dennis Oakes, city community development director, Martell applied for the first grant last summer. The Romulus application was not approved.

The second application was approved two weeks ago although city officials are still awaiting final word from Gov. James J. Blanchard's office.

Final notice is expected by the end of the week.

City complains about revised airport study

By FLORENCE MEEKS ANP Staff Writer

Romulus city officials remain concerned about an environmental impact study recently drafted for the Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport.

The study centers on a series of expansion plans proposed for he airport.

Under consideration is the development of a south access road, a runway extension, construction of a new runway and construction of a new terminal. The impact study for these projects was released last summer.

A revised version of the study was recently completed to include comments made during an August public hearing.

People expressed concern about wetlands in the area, the impact of noise pollution. reduced property values and before the project continued," the possibility of the airport purchasing area homes and businesses to make room for a new runway.

The revised study was not released to the general public, but municipal and county officials were able to read it upon request.

Dennis Oakes, director of community development for Romulus, recently addressed the study in a letter to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

"Many of our initial comments of Aug. 9. . . appear not to be addressed in the revised (study.) Although we have supported the proposed extension program in principle, and are well aware of the regional economic benefits that will result from the expansion, there are certainly adverse localized impacts that must be evaluated and minimized

Oakes wrote.

Oakes presented a list of city concerns about the study and the proposed airport expansion.

 Romulus would lose a portion of an existing tax base. The city would lose potential revenues needed to support investments in water and sewer utility lines in the proposed expansion area.

• The economic impact analysis in the study provides broad conclusions instead of raw data, Oakes said.

· Property acquisition has been proposed before the expansion project has received federal approval. This situation creates lowered property values and uncertainty, Oakes said.

 Oakes called for a closer look at the long-term social and economic impact that would come with a changed Romulus. A large portion of the city would transform into а commercial/industrial area, he said.

Oakes also asked for strengthened noise mitigation efforts, analysis dealing with air and water quality, wetland mitigations and road relocations.

"I don't think they've (airport officials) responded adequately to all of our concerns," Oakes said later.

Oakes said the study tends to be misleading.

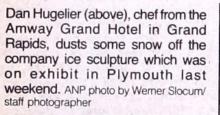

Some aspects of the expansion, such as a new terminal, depend upon an agreement with Northwest Airline officials.

"It's really not clear to people that the project is contingent to a deal with Northwest," he said.

Currently, the revised study is awaiting approval and input from the Federal Aviation Authority. After further revisions, the study will be presented to area residents and government officials.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Student count shows increase

The unofficial fourth Friday count for December at Romulus Community Schools showed a slight increase in younger students with an overall decrease in the total count.

The complete tally came to 4,730 students, including those in elementary, junior, senior, special education and adult education schools. The November count showed 4,748 students. The district has lost 32 students.

The elementary schools showed a count of 2,361 students, an increase of five from the November count.

Students in seventh and eighth grades were counted at 684, up from 675 in November.

Decreases were recorded in the upper-grade levels. High school students totaled 1,306 in December, 1,352 in November.

Program receives computers

The Vocational Education Department for Romulus Community Schools will soon receive four IBM computer systems

The department recently received an equipment grant from the state for the 1989/90 school year. That grant will pay for half of the computer costs.

District money for the purchase will come from the vocational funds received each year, according to Bill Murhpy, director of vocational education.

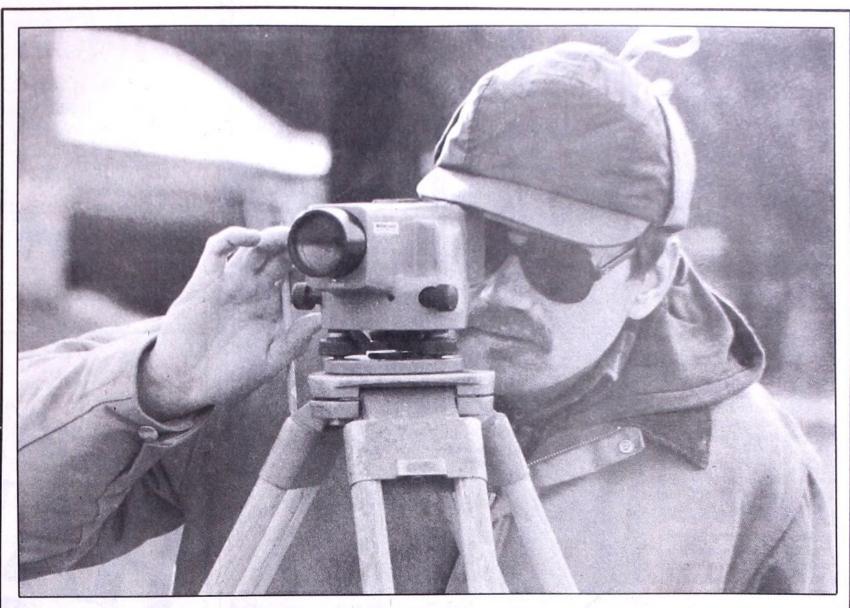

No general fund money will be used, he said.

The computer equipment will consist of personal microcomputers, two laser printers and a networking system to upgrade the existing equipment. After a 40 percent school discount, the cost of the computers comes to $23,499.

Members of the Romulus board of education approved the purchase Monday night.

Bow hunter safety class taught

The Romulus Recreation Department will offer a bow hunter safety class at 9 a.m. Jan. 28 in the recreation building. The class fee is $1 per participant. During the session, the instructor will discuss shooting methods, harvesting game, animal anatomy, blood trailing, field dressing and the proper care of meat. Advance registration is required. Headstart location is undecided

By FLORENCE MEEKS ANP Staff Writer

The idea of moving the Romulus Headstart preschool program to Barth Elementary School is losing ground with the Romulus Board of Education.

Representatives from the federally-funded program recently approached the board, complaining about the deteriorating condition of their current site at the Wayne Met-ly Road.

School officials agreed to consider the concerns facing Headstart.

Earlier in the month, superintendent William Bedell supported the idea of moving the program to Barth.

He said the Beverly building was in poor repair, and sufficient room for the preschool program could be found at the elementary school.

The elementary school propro Services Building on Bever- osal was tabled at the Jan. 8 board meeting. During the Jan. 22 meeting, a new option was discussed.

Now, the district may sell Wayne Metro Services the Beverly building. Board members authorized district administrators to negotiate a sale.

The district may lower their price for the building to $1 if Wayne Metro Service representatives agree to continue using the building for social programs, said assistant superintendent Joel Carr.

Once the organization owns the building, they would stand a better chance of obtaining grants to fund repairs, Carr added.

Luther Flanagan, executive director of Wayne Metro Services, said the organization is open to the idea of purchasing the building.

City OK's several contracts

By FLORENCE MEEKS ANP Staff Writer

Five contracts for professional services were approved by city council Monday night, providing raises for each of the companies involved.

Approved contracts are with: David Geragosian, commercial/industrial appraiser; McKenna Associates, planning consultant; Community Planning and Management, planning consultant; Berry, Hopson, Francis, Mack and Seifman, legal advisor; and Orchard Hiltz and McCliment, engineer.

All of the firms have served the city in past years.

"Each of these has some increase," Mayor Beverly McAnally said as she recommended the contracts to council members Geragosian received a twopercent increase, not to exceed $19,380.

McKenna Associates will receive a four-percent increase the first year of service and a two-percent increase the following year. In 1990, McKenna will receive $56 per hour for regular work and $67.50 per hour for attending meetings of boards or commissions.

In 1991, McKenna said the rates will rise to $57 per hour and $69 per hours.

The other contractors will receive four-percent increases for the entire two-year contract period.

The contract for city legal advisors did spark some debate during the meeting. Councilmembers Jimmie Raspberry and Fred "Junior" Block voted against it.

Block said he opposed the pay system proposed for the law firm. The contract provides for services at $75 per hour for the first 20 hours per week. Pay then rises to $90 per hour.

The 20-hour standard should be expanded, Block said.

Preparation underway for festival

The Romulus Festival Committee is looking for volunteers to help with the 1990 festival.

Especially needed are people to help with public relations and advertising.

Committee members also are looking for a nonprofit organization interested in co-sponsoring the Las Vegas tent.

The festival is planned for May 18, 19 and 20.

For more information, call 942-6852 or 941-4422 (evenings).

Commission appointment made

Appointments of three members were recently approved for the Romulus Planning Commission.

The appointments were presented to city council Monday night by Mayor Beverly McAnally.

William Crova will fill the unexpired term of Duwayne Martin. The term expires January 1991. Martin resigned to accept the position of recreation director.

Don Treder and Sheldon Chandler were reappointed to serve until 1993.

Thanks offered for fund-raiser

Dorothy Bonk recently thanked the Romulus and Belleville Rotary clubs for sponsoring a fund-raiser for her daughter, Judy.

The event was staged to help Judy, a paraplegic, return to an independent life at home.

Vivian Wade died last week at age 57.

Wade, who recently retired from Romulus Community Schools, was employed approximately 20 years as a school bus driver. She was a past president of Local Union 64 for the district.

During a city council meeting Monday night, a resolution in Wade's honor was proposed by Mayor Pro Tem Randolph Gear.

Joe said they plan to keep the kittens at least four months to see how they develop.

Miriam explained there are specific qualities breeders and judges look for in cats.

She and her husband belong to the Cat Fancy Association, one of the largest cat registries in the world, she said.

Within the organization are breed councils, representatives who determine the qualities each species should display. Among the areas considered are ears, eyes, body, tail, coat and muscle tone.

Usually, Miriam continued, the council assigns a point value to each quality. In a Cat Fanciers' show, contestants would strive to earn 100 points.

In addition to her job with the school, Wade was a member of Campers Club of Garden City and the Metropolitan Memorial Baptist Church-Ypsilanti-Missionary Guild.

Wade is survived by her children, Michael Wade of Romulus and Vickie Wade of Inkster.

Funeral services were staged Jan. 23 at Metropolitan Memorial Baptist Church in Ypsilanti. Arrangements were made by Crane Funeral Home in Romulus.

Miriam said cat shows differ from dog competitions.

'Cats are not trained to do tricks. Cats are checked to see if they meet the written standard.

During the shows, cats can compete in one of three categories -kitten, adult (championship) or neutered (premiere).

The St. Louis show was considered a national competition, drawing cat fanciers from all over the United States along with Canada and Japan - 729 felines competed.

All entrants qualified at one of seven regional competitions staged in October. Invitations were extended to the top cats in each recognized breed and variety.

Four of the Duffy cats were invited, two attended.

Additional PTO projects include book fairs, discipline/ education programs and participation in the Romulus Build a Bridge program. The latter is a community substance abuse education project.

Often, fund-raiser projects to support PTO activities are operated by fifth and sixth grade Wick students.

"They virtually run the whole show," she said.

Officers serve as interim chiefs

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER ANP Belleville City Editor

Following the resignation of Van Buren Police Chief Joseph Davies last week, a search for a replacement was launched through a firm that specializes in municipal job placements.

Until a new police chief is found, Lt. Mark Perkins will be in charge of the day-to-day operation of the police department, said Van Buren Township Supervisor David Jacokes.

Kenneth Brooks, who along with Perkins was promoted to lieutenant in December, will provide "full support" to Perkins, the supervisor said.

Jacokes said some consideration has been given to the establishment of a public safety director post, which would oversee both the police and fire departments. However, he said, no decision will be made until a "full study of the proposal is made." Complicating the implementation of a plan to name one chief for the two departments, he said, is the parttime status of the fire department.

"I honestly don't know if such a step would even be possible," Jacokes said. "We'll wait to hear from Bartel and Bartel (the consulting firm.)"

The fire department has been without a chief since Cameron McInally, who was hired as a building director/ fire chief, resigned his duties with the fire department to take on full-time responsibilities as building director. Assistant fire chiefs Jim Reed and Steve Champagne are now heading the pay-by-call parttime department.

"We sill be looking for someone who will be adaptable to our situation and the needs of the department," Jacokes said. "For example, at present we have part-time, full-time and reserve officers, and we need a police chief that can work with all, not one who is totally commited to one type of service. Our main objective, as we go through the replacement search, is to keep our high quality and high quality and high quantity of service," the supervisor said.

Jacokes said the police department will continue making narcotics raids, patrolling the rest stop, keeping the lake patrol at its current level and monitoring overweight trucks.

other types of strabismus, one eye may be turned outward, up, or down relative to the other eye.

Esotropia is the most common eye misalignment in children. The eye that is crossed in may be "ignored" by the child's developing brain, so vision may not develop in that eye, resulting in a "lazy eye". Also there is loss of depth perception when using only one eye. For these reasons, it is extremely important to recognize and treat esotropia as soon as it is noticed in a child, even if it 'comes and goes". Children do not "outgrow esotropia, and waiting only tends to make it more difficult to reverse the lazy eye.

Esotropia in an infant usually requires surgery to solve the problem. In these cases, it is necessary to surgically detach a muscle from the eye and reattach it at a different location to re-align the eyes. A child over the age of two years who develops esotropia frequently can be corrected by fitting eye glasses to correct farsightedness. This farsightedness causes the child to focus" their eyes to try to see better, and the crossing-in accompanies the focusing. Sometimes bifocals are necessary to prevent crossing when reading. Esotropia at any age can be corrected, but if noticed in a child, should be checked by an Ophthalmologist without delay.

Resource room School project turns classroom into a place for parents to learn

By FLORENCE MEEKS ANP Staff Writer

While their children are in the classrooms, parent volunteers at Halecreek Elementary School now have a room of their own to use.

The Parent Resource Media Room is ready for use and is expected to be in full operation by the beginning of February. In this room is a work center with a book collection available for take-out and a play area for young children.

"It's a unique kind of program'' said Principal Art McPharlin.

He said he hopes the center will help parents feel more welcome at the school.

Originally, the room was a graduate school project for two Halecreek teachers, Sheila Stasak and Barbara Krogsrud. They have spent three months collecting books, pictures and furniture for the room. Funding for the project came from a $500 mini-grant from the county.

Books in the room focus on parenting skills and are available through a library checkout system, Stasak said.

Before they stocked the room, Stasak and Krogsrud surveyed parents to learn what areas interested them.

Top requests were ways to build self-esteem in a child, activities that teach reading and math skills and advice about discipline.

Additional areas of interest were divorce and separation, dealing with death, how to monitor television, parents' rights, report cards and career education.

Currently, the library contains approximately 55 books and magazines, and the supply is expected to rise. Stasak said she also plans to subscribe to parenting magazines for the center.

The room is meant to cater to the large group of parents who volunteer during school hours, but it is available to all parents. Joann Bjork will act as parent coordinator for the pro-

other types of strabismus, one eye may be turned outward, up, or down relative to the other eye

Esotropia is the most common eye misalignment in children. The eye that is crossed in may be "ignored" by the child's developing brain, so vision may not develop in that eye, resulting in a "lazy eye". Also there is loss of depth perception when using only one eye. For these reasons, it is extremely important to recognize and treat esotropia as soon as it is noticed in a child, even if it 'comes and goes''. Children do not 'outgrow esotropia, and waiting only tends to make it more difficult to reverse the lazy eye.

Esotropia in an infant usually requires surgery to solve the problem. In these cases, it is necessary to surgically detach a muscle from the eye and reattach it at a different location to re-align the eyes. A child over the age of two years who develops esotropia frequently can be corrected by fitting eye glasses to correct farsightedness. This farsightedness causes the child to focus" their eyes to try to see better, and the crossing-in accompanies the focusing. Sometimes bifocals are necessary to prevent crossing when reading. Esotropia at any age can be corrected, but if noticed in a child, should be checked by an Ophthalmologist without delay

CITY OF ROMULUS Piling Snow Now Illegal

It's that time of the year again when many citizens unknowingly break the law by piling snow on roadways and shoulders as they shovel their driveways and walks, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) warns.

State law prohibits businesses and citizens from dumping snow on roadways and shoulders or piling it so high at driveway entrances that it obstucts the vision of motorists.

The department recommends residents keep the shoulder in front of their driveways clear, and also clear snow for a short distance from the driveway in the direction of approaching traffic.

"That way the view of motorist entering the roadway from a driveway is not obstructed," explained Maury Witteveen, MDOT's chief engineer of maintenance.

"When clearing your driveway," he said, "push the snow away from the roadway and to the sides of the driveway for its full length. That will eliminate the problem of high snow banks blocking a driver's view."

Witteveen said large businesses should make special arrangements ahead of time to remove snow from their driveway entrances and driveways. In some cases it may be necessary to truck snow away from parking facilities.

Violators leave themselves open to fines and lawsuits for public liability and property damage. For a charge to be filed, a police office must witness the violation or a citizen must file a complaint.

All property owners and persons hired to remove snow are responisblie for maintaining safe traffic conditions and preventing careless snow removal techniques.

An open letter to newspaper advertisers.

How to evaluate your options in light of the JOA.

The JOA has pretty much turned media advertising on its ear. Shockingly higher rates. New contracts. Uncertain circulation. In the midst of this turmoil, it's more important than ever before to take a careful look at the Detroit market.

Here are some facts to consider.

SPRING, the network of 45 suburban daily and weekly papers is now delivering more key customers for less money than either the News or the Free Press.

Of all the newspaper alternatives, SPRING reaches the greatest number of people you want to reach. More than 1,000,000 readers in more than 500,000 suburban households surrounding Detroit. Men and women with the spending power, smarts, and savvy to buy what you have to sell.

What's more, SPRING is efficient.

The bottom line? If you are a newspaper advertiser, you have a legitimate choice. You can look at the JOA as a new problem-or you can look at SPRING as a new solution.

One sales rep, one insertion order, one ad copy, and one invoice does it all.

Naturally, we hope you'll choose SPRING.

Why not give us a call?

By DANIEL CALABRESE ANP Staff Writer

A young congressman named Bill Ford went to Washington for the first time 25 years ago, hoping to make life better for the people in the Detroit suburbs.

As he celebrates his silver anniversary on Capitol Hill, Ford's aspirations have changed little.

"I tried to make life better for some people, and in some ways I have," Ford, 62, said.

When he came to Congress on the heels of the 1964 election, which gave President Lyndon Johnson another full term, Ford (D-Taylor) was behind what he called the Kennedy-Johnson program, commonly known as the "Great Society programs.

Today, Ford is the secondranking Democrat on the House Education and Labor committee, and said he feels the same way about the Kennedy-Johnson initiatives.

Those programs were designed to eliminate poverty in the United States.

But Ford dislikes the label "Great Society," saying it was invented by the media.

According to Ford, the principles behind those programs were-and still are-a matter of

Agency takes the first step for women

> By PAMELA LANDIS ANP News Editor

First Step, an agency serving victims of domestic and sexual abuse, helped more than 2,000 families in 1989.

Karen Porter, assistant director of the agency, said the agency always needs help from the communities it serves.

First Step serves all the communities in western Wayne County and Downriver.

"We cover 480 square miles and 1 million people," Porter said.

Ford said he has aligned himself with labor unions because he does not see them as a symbol of the power structure.

"Organized labor is synonymous with working men and women," Ford said.

He noted, however, the labor legislation he has supported, such as the plant closing notification law and the increase in the minimum wage, apply to non-union workers as well as unionized workers.

Ford claimed credit for writing or co-writing nearly all of the major education legislation during his years in Congress.

The Head Start program, he said, has successfully given lower- and middle-income children a chance to avoid being left behind in the classroom.

"The number of children who spend one hour a day with one Ford said. "We build a Cadillac, and then we hand somebody five gallons of gas, and say, 'Drive the Cadillac.'

Ford said he has no immediate plans to retire from Congress.

"When it's no longer challenging, I'll find something else to do," Ford said.

But Ford said he does not regret remaining in Congress for a quarter of a century.

Although the agency has a shelter for abused and battered women and their children, Porter said only 28 people can stay in the home at one time. There are seldom vacancies at the home.

The location of the shelter is not made public to protect the privacy and safety of the women and children staying there.

"We're always full. But we never let some person, who needs a safe place to go, down. We refer them to other agencies or work with them in some way in order for them to get to a safe place," she said. "We'll do whatever it takes.'

Besides offering emergency shelter, Porter said the agency also offers a full program of individual and group counseling for victims of all types of abuse.

"We have a strong nonresident program," she said. Not only is there counseling for the participants, but the agency also provides advocacy for the clients in court and at the hospitals.

Porter said staff workers will help women obtain injunctions against the men who have abused them. Staff also will help the women who are being treated at hospitals.

"We'll do whatever it takes," she said, including showing the woman how to balance a checkbook or find an apartment.

For instance, one client had suffered severe head injuries and needed help learning how td do things on her own. Staff at First Step was able to help that woman.

- Still, the agency needs assistance from the public.
- "We always need help from volunteers," she said.

The agency also needs any household goods, including dis-posable diapers, baby formula and food, dishes, pots and pans and "whatever else you need to start over again.'

CRUISE TO ALASKA

If you really want to absorb the feel color and thrill of Alaska, let us book you on a cruise to Canada and Alaska. This is the land of the Eskimo, mountains, sea-scapes and panoramas that are overwhelming.

You'll run out of words when you try to describe the sheer cliffs rising from the water off your cruise ship, cliffs that terminate into craggy, snowcovered wastes. Then as you keep watching from the railing, you'll see tree-covered mountains fading into the distance. The word "spectacular" will seem inadequate as you watch the great glaciers, actual rivers of ice coming out to meet the sea.

The cruise will start in Vancouver and head north to such storybook places as Ketchikan, Juneau, Skagway, Glacier Bay and Sitka. Mysterious totem poles and arts and crafts of the eskimos and Northwest Indian tribes will greet you at your stops. Sitka dates all the way back to the time when the Russians were in Alaska, and visiting Ketchikan and Juneau will show you what frontier towns are really like.

A 10% discount is offered on cruises and cruise/tours if under deposit before January 31.

Opinion

Support your local schools

On February 8 voters in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools district will be asked to vote for a millage increase.

We urge support of the increase, the millage renewal and the Headlee amendment override as the only means for averting dangerous waters.

Without the funding generated from these proposals, the students of the district - which includes Wayne, Westland, as well as parts of Inkster and Canton Township could lose valuable programs and needed resources.

The school system is our hope for the future. It determines the success of the community as a whole, and will determine its attractiveness to potential homebuyers.

If we allow the school system to slip below the level of acceptability, then we are allowing our children and neighborhoods to also lose ground.

We did not support Proposals A and B in November because they were not a viable and reasonable solution to the problem of inequitable school funding in the state of Michigan. We do not regret that opinion.

We do, however, see the necessity of additional funding for Wayne-Westland schools, and believe these proposals are the best option at this juncture.

We can only hope that in the very near future, state legislators will return to negotiations and establish a system of equitable funding for all Michigan school districts.

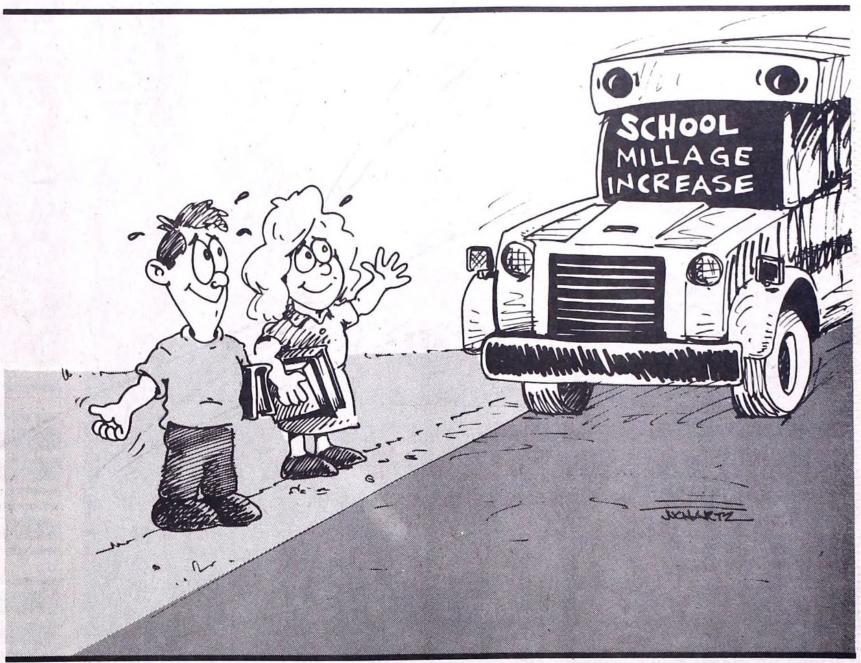

Critics of the millage proposals cite excessive pay scales for school administrators as a reason for voting against the ballot issues. As we compare salaries from one school district to the next, we find it unreasonable to consider Superintendent Dennis O'Neill's salary as excessive. He is a well-educated man who runs a school district of 17,000 students. It is a big job, and his pay is deserved.

And while we support the millage proposals, and defend the superintendent's salary, we must also ask school administrators and board of education members to consider some options for trimming the fat and tightening the belt.

We believe school administrators must become stricter negotiators in terms of contracts for teachers, custodians, paraprofessionals and the many other unions represented in the district. Salaries in many regards have been allowed to get out of hand, and only during the past year have we seen a tougher negotiating strategy.

We believe the school district must reconsider some popular services, such as the senior citizens program at the Dyer Center. Although popular and not outrageously expensive to administer, the senior program takes money away from what should be the focus of our educational system - the youth.

Finally, the district should eliminate duplicate programs in the school system. There is little logic to offering vocational classes at either John Glenn or Wayne Memorial high school, when the district is home to one of the finest vocational centers in the country. Consolidating those programs will help to streamline costs.

Millage failure will devastate

My name is Clayton L. Barnes, president of the senior class of 1990 at Wayne Memorial High School. I am very concerned about the upcoming millage election. If the citizens of the Wayne-Westland Community School District fail to pass the most recent millage request, this could have a devastating effect upon our school district. Many of the quality programs offered today will become history.

If the citizens of our community feel that education is important, they must allow us an opportunity to graduate from a competitive high school and not one lacking accreditation. Then and only then can we expect to assume our role in society as productive adults, who can share in the responsibility of providing a quality educational program. It would only cost the average Wayne-Westland Community School District taxpayer an additional $10 per month. I believe that in order to preserve our fine instrumental, vocal, dramatics, and athletic programs, it would be money well spent.

is for them that I am writing this letter.

Imagine 5, 10, 15 years from now. If the school district fails, the community fails, and we are all losers!

Vote yes February 8. Clayton L. Barnes Wayne Memorial student

Support is crucial

I am a student at Wayne threats begin to come from the school administration and the school board. This time, before Wayne-Westland voters overwhelmingly defeated Proposals A and B in November 1989, there were threats of another opportunity to vote "yes" for a local school tax increase if those proposals failed to pass.

Within two weeks of the solid defeat of Proposals A and B (3 to 1 statewide, 5 to 1 locally) the new "revised" budget was with "increased costs" and "decreased income" was regretfully unveiled. The next "opportunity for kids" election for increased taxes was also announced for February 8, 1990. The next move will be the punishment cuts. The first cuts are always the highly visible student programs such as art, music, athletics, extracurricular activities, bus service, and the shortened school day. Classroom teachers, secretaries and custodians will be immediately "pink slipped," but those "essential central administrators" and their pals are never cut. Unfilled vacancies on the administrative charts, extra pay subject-matter district department heads, or other superfluous nonexistent fictitious so-called administrative positions will be heralded as cut. However, vital expenditures such as salary increases for overpaid administrators, new equipment for the board office, and carpet for the superintendent's headquarters are never cancelled. Just the cuts which impact the students and their voter-parents to "whip them ity to change their vote" are axed.

Does it work? Does it work! Everytime!

Making the kids and their nonunderstanding parents hurt and howl works everytime. By the time the next millage election rolls around, those non-professional parents often will beg for the privilege to raise their own taxes so that they can quit hurting under the cuts.

Professional school administrators generally regard parents as unreliable, apathetic, emotional, unconcerned bumblers who really don't know what education is all about, while they themselves are "concerned for kids.' Do you ever wonder why the only time "kids" are mentioned is when they are asking for increased taxes to spend for increased salaries and benefits for themselves? If they asked for more salaries and fringes, you would vote "no" every time. This way they have a better chance of you saying "yes" more often. You pay some of the highest school taxes in the state because you have said "yes for kids.' Maybe it's time to say the citizens of the community say 'enough is enough" and mean it. Maybe it's time to say "no" to all three proposals on February 8. Maybe it's time to say "no more punishment cuts". Maybe it's time for professional parentvoters to say "no" to this unprofessional problem of perennial punishment cuts.

Thanks Westland

The management and staff of the Associated Newspapers was proud once again to be selected as the official newspaper of the city of Westland.

We accept the vote of confidence with dignity and understanding of the responsibility involved.

While pleased with our receipt of the legal contract for Westland, we were concerned by the response of one councilman - Charles Pickering - who referred to the Westland Eagle as an "embarassment to the city."

We look each day at a wall in our newsroom lined with awards which identify us as one of the best weekly newspapers in the state. We watch as the circulation for our newspapers continues to climb. This makes it difficult to accept such a comment.

We hope Mr. Pickering and his fellow councilmembers realize that we have always put great effort into working with the administration of the cities we cover. We will continue to do so.

Memorial High School, who is concerned about the upcoming election. I feel that support of the millage proposals is crucial, as my own goals, whether it be immediate or long range, are contingent upon their passing. Failure to pass them would be detrimental to various high school programs.

Vast amounts of tax dollars are spent on our prisons, yet there is some question as to whether a virtually nominal price should be paid to educate young minds. Therefore, I am asking for complete support of all three millage proposals.

Forfeit forces showdown Inkster is in 'must win' game with league foe, Highland Park

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

Forced into a corner because of a forfeited victory, Inkster High Coach George Thompson Jr. will attempt to rally his Viking forces Friday night and march on Highland Park in a battle that is labeled a "must win" for both teams.

The previously undefeated Vikings had their untarnished 5-0 Suburban Athletic Conference basketball record tarnished last week when they were ordered, under Michigan High School Athletic Conference rules, to forfeit the Oak Park game to the Red Skins. Inkster apparently had utilized the services of an ineligible player.

'The player had used up his eight semesters of eligibility, and that was discovered too late," Thompson said. "It's an unfortunate circumstance, but it has happened. We were, therefore, ordered to forfeit the victory the player participated in.'

Inkster's bad fortune was Oak Park's good. The Red Skins moved into sole possession of first place, while Inkster dropped floor has always been tough.'

down a notch (4-1), and presently shares second place with Highland Park. Highland Park also has one loss.

Obviously our game with them (Highland Park) is a strategic one," Thompson said. "It is a crucial because the loser falls two games off the leader's pace, and it will be hard to get back into contender.'

Thompson also warned that "beating Highland Park on its own

"We can't shoot the way we have at the foul line and play sloppy if we want to beat them," Thompson said. "If we want to stay in the hunt, then we have to stop them."

The Vikings survived a lackadaisical eight-to-16 performance at the free throw line to stop Willow Run, 74-58, last week. A superb performance by senior forward Tyron Orr, who pumped in six of his game-high 28 points in the third period lifted the Vikings to their fifth SAC victory.

Willow Run, a team that has looked anything but impressive the last three outings, scored only 27 points for the first three periods before it erupted for 32 against the Vikings' second-stringers in the final stanza.

Inkster also looked depressed early in the battle. The Vikings led 11-9 after one and increased their advantage to 26-18 for two periods before Orr, later joined by Marcus Kewley who scored seven of his 14 points in that turnaround third, came alive.

Orr, who has been averaging more than 25 points per game in his last four games, drilled 12 from the field - two from 3-point range - and canned two of four free throws for his 28. Teammates Claude McReynolds and Kewley counted 15 and 14 points.

Low-scoring Belleville falls prey to Wayne

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

Low-scoring Belleville wasted an outstanding performance by Derrick Boles, who scored nearly half of the Tigers' points, and lost to nemesis Wayne Memorial, 55-46, in the duel for basketball supremacy in the Wolverine 'A' Conference.

The victory, Wayne's sixth straight, lifted Coach Chuck Henry and his Zebras to sole possession of first place, while Belleville slipped to second. The Tigers are 5-1 in the league and 7-4 overall.

It was a disappointing setback for Coach Michael Garland's Tigers, who had a third of the title snatched from them a year ago by Wayne (Monroe, Wayne, and Belleville finished in a dead heat for first a year ago).

Boles kept Belleville in the thick of the hunt as he rallied the Tigers from a 16-7 first-period deficit. The Tigers outscored their archrivals 14-10 and 14-12 in the middle quarters and closed to within five (26-21) for the initial half, and within three points (36-33) for three points.

Boles appeared unstoppable as he pumped in five field goals - one a three-pointer - and cashed in 10 free throws for his game-high 21 points. In fact, the Tigers remained in the game thanks to 19 (of 24) charities.

However, Larry Johnson sounded the knell for Belleville as he connected on the first four points of the final quarter. In fact, 10 of Johnson's team-high 18 points, came in the last eight minutes.

With 1 1/2 minutes left Kevin Hankerson, who keyed Wayne's rebounding attack, fouled out, opening the door for the Tigers. However, they couldn't capitalize as they hit a drought and failed to score a point in the final minute of play.

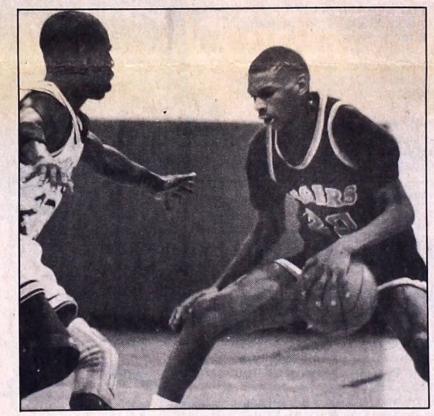

Boles' 21 points topped all scorers. Teammates Paul Gardette and Ron Hunter each had nine points while Dave Roeder added six.

Johnson and Hankerson led the Zebras with 18 and 14 points, respectively.

Garland said that he expected a hard-fought game, but felt that the inability to generate more points led to the loss.

The Tigers will be back in action Friday night as they travel to Dearborn Fordson for their next conference game.

Eagles' volleyball win streak snapped

By TOM MOORADIAN -ANP Staff Writer

Romulus volleyballers put up a heroic effort against Ann Arbor Huron last week and took their South Central Conference rivals to four sets before yielding, 3-1.

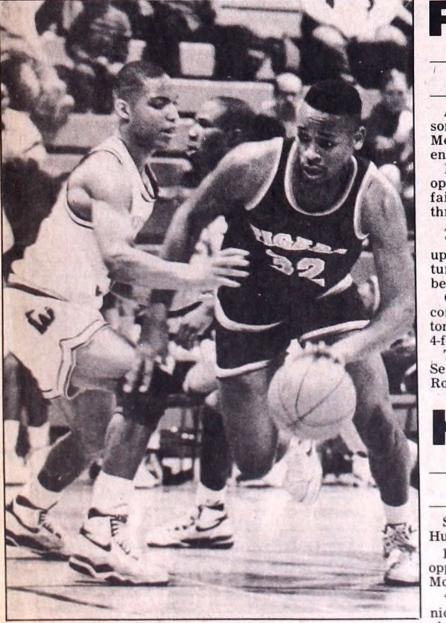

The loss snapped a 2-game SCC winning streak of the Eagles.

The key to the Romulus loss and the Huron victory was the second game. Down 5-0, the Eagles battled back and took their rivals to an 18-16 count before losing. That game gave the River Rats a 2-0 edge.

Romulus came back and won the third set 15-10, however, lost a 15-12 decision in the next game.

Coach Coleman said the Eagles are improving with each outing. Michael Scarrow, who had nine "kills', four aces, one block and eight service points, and Jennifer Daniels, who contributed six kills, three aces, two blocks and collected 10 assists, earned praise from the Romulus coach.

Chris Stratton, with five kills, and Brooke Hammers, with a total of 14 assists, also stood out.

Closely-guarded Derrick Boles (32) seeks a path to Wayne's basket. Boles scored a game-high 21 points but it didn't help as Wayne ended Belleville's five-game winning streak, 55-46. ANP photo by Werner Slocum/staff photographer

Romulus outlasts Taylor Truman

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

After chalking up their sixth non-conference victory of the season last week at the expense of Taylor Truman, 74-71, Coach Chris Molloy and the Eagles of Romulus return to South Central Conference warfare Friday night at home.

Romulus will have its cage sights focused on Adrian, its last opponent in the first round of SSC competition. The Eagles have failed to give their rookie coach a conference victory in their three previous outings.

Adrian isn't expected to be easy pickings for the Eagles. "We match up pretty well," Molloy said, commenting on the upcoming Adrian game, "but we must eliminate those costly turnovers we have been committing. I think we are playing much better as a team, but we get careless at times and lose our poise."

Clutch free throw shooting in the stretch helped Romulus overcome a determined Taylor Truman squad. Thanks to Abu Hamilton and sophomore Genesis Barnes, who combined for a perfect 4-for-4 at the line, the Eagles managed to stop Truman.

Truman had a pair of 18-point scorers in Donnell Williams and Sean Stewart. The also had a 16-14 edge after the first period. Romulus snapped back and took command 36-30 at the half, only to trail by a basket, 52-50, for three periods.

The Eagles managed to come back at the foul line as they capitalized on seven of eight charities in the second half - they made 15 of 22 for the game.

Romulus put three players in double figures. Larry Perkins had 20 while Torrey Mills chipped in 18 and Kevin Brown contributed 16.

Truman, which got five field goals and eight of 10 free throws from Williams, sank 18 of 25 at the line.

Huron still looking for league win

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

Six games into the Huron Conference season, the Chiefs of Huron High continue to search for their first league win.

Huron and interim head Coach Terry Suemnick missed an opportunity to put the brakes to their skid last week as then-winless Monroe Jefferson escaped with a 66-50 victory.

"I think the difference in this game was the foul line," Suemnick said. "They had 40 opportunities and made 27; we had 10 chances and made five."

The two teams were tied at 18-all after the first eight minutes and with Craig Poet and Matt Holtan tossing in 15 of their team's 20 points, the Chiefs broke loose to a 28-25 lead at halftime.

Holtan, struggling with early fouls, sank seven of his 15 points and Poet pumped in eight of his 10 points in the second quarter.

Jefferson, who didn't have to be concerned about Holtan most of the second half because of his foul problems, outscored their visitors 15-9 and 16-13 for the last two periods to win their first in six conference outings.

"With two minutes to go, we were still in the game," Suemnick said, "but we just couldn't get over the hump. Those fouls kept us pinned down.

Earlier in the week, Huron turned back Dearborn Heights Annapolis 66-55 as Poet, Dave Delano, and Holtan led the assault. The Chiefs exploded to a 19-6 first period lead and never looked back.

Poet had a game high 18 points and Delano contributed 14 while Holtan added 11. Bill Phipps was instrumental on the boards for the winners. He had 11 rebounds.

Monroe depth too much for title-hopeful Belleville

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

Monroe shoved previously undefeated Belleville out of the inside lane of the Wolverine 'A' Conference swim title race last week.

Although Coach Greg Cooper and his Tigers managed to take seven of the 11 first places, they lacked the depth to surface with the win. Monroe snapped Belleville's conference win streak at three and handed the losers their first loss of the season, 95-77.

"It was one of those classic battles that matched one team's depth against another's frontliners. We had the frontliners, but didn't have enough manpower to stop them," said Cooper, whose club is now 5-1 on the season.

If the defending champs want to salvage a share of the crown, they will have to find a way to beat Monroe at the conference championships. The championships will be decided the last week of February.

Romulus places 4th at Toledo

By TOM MOORADIAN ANP Staff Writer

With some of the best wrestlers in Ohio and Michigan competing, Romulus High finished fourth at the Toledo Waite Wrestling Invitational.

And Coach Norm Butler's Eagles also brought home six medals, three of which were golds.

"I thought we did exceptionally well at Waite considering that we only took nine wrestlers to the tournament," said Butler. "We're still having problems filling the weight classes with qualified wrestlers.'

Romulus struck gold with Dale Gehringer (103), Bruce Boyd (135) and Brian Farnan (152). Romulus had a runner-up with Dave Gehringer (119), while Billy Lincoln (140) and Scott Murowski (160) finished with fourth-place medals.

About 20 teams competeed at Waite this year. Marion Franklin (Ohio), which amassed 164 points, one point more than St. Edward's, also of Ohio, won the team championship. Central, OHio was third (142.5), a mere half-point better than Romulus. That half-point separated the Eagles from a third-place trophy.

Gehringer, a 103-pound sophomore, improved his personal record to 25-4 on the season as he defeated Sylvania Northview's Artie Brown, 10-4

Boyd knocked off Blake Plymouth of St. Edward's in the championship round, 8-2, and Farnan claimed a hard-earned 9-7 victory over Central's Bill Lucius. The Romulus grappler pulled off the victory in the last 30 seconds of the match. Dale Gehringer almost gave the Eagles their fourth gold. He lost a 17-11 decision to Otsegio, Ohio's Anthony Soto.

The Eagles also placed their South Central Conference crown in jeopardy last week as they lost a 34-26 decision to Adrian that left them holding a 1-1 SCC record.

Romulus will host their inaugural Romulus Royal Invitational on Saturday. They will entertain such powers as Bay City Western, Birmingham Brother Rice, Redford Catholic Central, Harper Woods Notre Dame, Lansing Eastern, Lansing Sexton, and yard butterfly was the best time of the evening in that event.

Belleville also claimed the 200-yard freestyle thanks to the performance by Michael Bird, who was clocked in the winning time of 1:54.14. Teammate Ed Trudo covered the 500-yard freestyle in 5:21.70.

Cooper put together the winning combination for the 400yard freestyle. He chose Trudo, Bird, Ken Tolliver, and Bogardus whose 3:31.90 was the winning time.

Cooper said he has confidence in his team, "and that they would recover from their initial loss of the year.

Even though the loss to Monroe was a setback, we will use that as an incentive for going after them at the league meet," Cooper said. Belleville was back in the water Tuesday at Dearborn Edsel Ford. That was a nonconference meet. They should be able to rebound in the league tonight when they take on perennial league doormat, Southgate Anderson.

Robichaud falls to Highland Park

Robichaud turned in its best defensive performance of the year Friday night, but it wasn't good enough as Coach Ron Tarrant and the Bulldogs bowed to Highland Park, 48-37, in a Suburban Athletic Conference basketball game.

"I was impressed by the defense on both sides," said Tarrant, whose club goes up against league-leading Oak Park on Friday. "I felt we played our best defense. If we continue to do so, we will surprise a few teams down the stretch."

The Parkers grabbed a 10-6 lead and maintained a shaky edge throughout the rest of the evening. Frank Hayes and Tyrone Wheatley kept the Bulldogs in the thick of battle thanks to their double-figure scoring efforts.

Hayes accounted for 12 points and Wheatly added 10. Highland Park cashed in on Terry Howard's 14 points to help build up a 24-17 half time and a 37-23 third-period lead.

Tarrant, in his first year as head coach, said that, "although the team is maturing, we are still making some critical mistakes."

Robichaud committed 24 turnovers, which opened the door to their demise. They made five of eight at the foul line as compared to Highland Park's nine of 14.

The three victories boosted to have to continue to improve, Belleville's overall record to 11-1 on the year. The Tigers are 4-1 in Wolverine 'A' Conference 38, which enabled the Trojans competition, and will meet to climb into the league driv-Wayne Memorial tonight.

Hart said he believes input from citizens on auto insurance will help the council make intelligent recommendations to legislators.

"With auto insurance rates shocking the pocketbooks of working families, as well as retirees, it is obvious to everyone that rates must be lowered." Hart said. "The public's comments on this issue will help us decide how much rates should be lowered."

Hart charged Senate Republicans were responsible for shelving a proposal which would have rolled back rates by 30 percent.

He said lobbyists for the auto insurance companies have put pressure on legislators to resist change in rate structuring.

Auto dealers work to keep their customers happy

Blackwell offers creature comforts

By JOHN AGGE ANP Staff Writer

Everyone wants to feel good about their car purchase. At Blackwell Ford in Plymouth, even they want to feel good about your new car.

The management team at the dealership, located at Haggerty and Plymouth roads, is committed to helping the customer through every phase of car ownership from the selection to the trade-in process.

Len Gossman, new car sales manager of the dealership, said special treatment begins as soon as the customer enters the showroom.

"We make buying a car as much fun as we can," said Gossman. "We don't browbeat. We don't think that buying a car should have to be an ordeal.'

Blackwell Ford offers car browsers free coffee and popcorn while they look for their next car.

Gossman said the dealership had a special weeklong promotion in which they gave away free balloons and gifts for kids along with the popcorn.

"The idea just sort of stuck. We bought the machine we had rented for the popcorn. The customers seem to enjoy it, " Gossman said.

Don Massey, (above) owner of Don Massey Cadillac in Plymouth, presents the keys to a new Cadillac to Sister Mary Francelene of Madonna College. The car will be raffled in March. ANP photo special While free popcorn may be fun, car repair problems are not. The managers at Blackwell Ford work together, Gossman said, to ensure the customer is satisfied with service received at the dealership.

'When a customer has a problem with his automobile, we don't leave him at the sevice desk and wish him luck. The salesman, the managers and the service managers all work together to help the customer. People like that," Gossman above average, Gossman said.

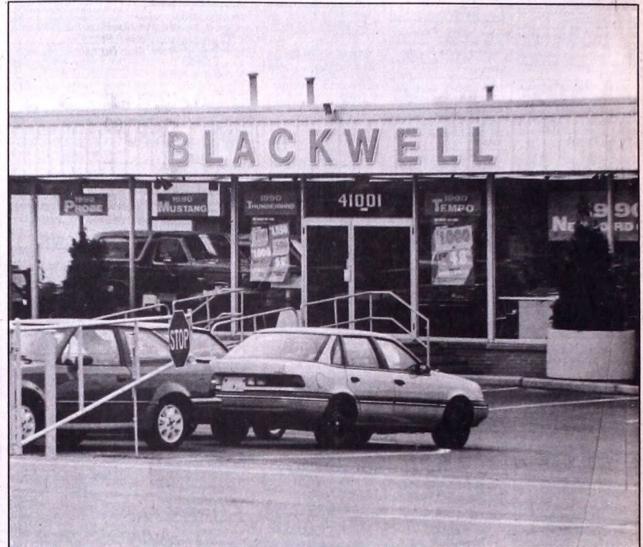

said. "Of all the dealerships I've worked at, Blackwell Ford has the most cooperative management team."

The cooperation is paying off. Blackwell Ford owners expanded the car lot to handle 400 more cars and trucks.

Gossman said sales at the dealership are bucking national declining trends, and sales are 20 percent better than the previous year.

To help sales, the Blackwell sales staff is offering up to $1200 cash back incentives on certain vehicles and special financing on models such as the Ford Taurus.

Gossman said sales of the Taurus and the Probe have been very strong for January. Escort sales also have been

If life gives you lemons. .

The cake still isn't baked. The chocolate dessert promised to Bill Garrett has not been delivered and yes, there is still Christmas cookie dough lurking in the darkest recesses of the freezer.

I know I said I finished baking them last week, but I lied, OK? And yes, I told Bill I would finish his dessert this week, but I made a slight error in my time projections, alright? Big deal.

If confession really is good for the soul, I should certainly feel a whole lot better now. Unfortunately, I don't. The flu bug that has been victimizing nearly the entire population has had it's way with me for several days, the man has not shown up to repair my furniture, the city won't believe that the county has reinspected the plumbing and they want to give me a ticket when I already fixed the stupid cross-over pipe. If there is so much interest in my plumbing someone should take a look at the leak behind the bathtub at home which I can't get anyone to fix. Furthermore, the cat is shedding. There is hair all over everything I own and the dog has decided that he's Rambo. Everytime he barks, the dancing flower I received for Christmas nearly jumps out of the pot, and pain akin to that known only during childbirth behind my left eye increases about 27 percent. This is not a good day.

On top of all this, I'm supposed to get on a plane for Boston in about 10 minutes for a prestigious speaking engagement and right now I don't have the vaguest idea what to say to the more than 1,000 people who will be there. Terror doesn't begin to describe my feelings. This isn't fun anymore. I am cranky. Life has dumped a big bunch of the proverbial lemons right smack into my lap. Now, if I were an optimistic, philosophical, energetic and NICE person, I would find a way to make the best of all these lessthan-ideal situations. I do not qualify. I'm crabby, cranky and desperate. There is only one thing to do...eat a Hershey Bar (with almonds, thank you) while I'm trying to scheme my way out of this assortment of messes. And, then, I'm going to bake a lemon pie. Somehow it seems appropriate.

The old-fashioned way

Canton woman shares favorites Some of the recipes lack complete instructions or use unique measuring instructions, but those who master them can truly say they practice oldfashioned cooking

Now, if I could only find somebody to write this damn speech.

Old-fashioned lemon pie

1 9 or10-inch prebaked pie shell 1 1/2 cups sugar 1/2 cup flour 2 tablespoons cornstarch 1/2 teaspoon salt 2 1/4 cups boiling water 3 egg yolks, beaten 6 tablespoons lemon juice 2-3 teaspoons grated lemon rind 2 tablespoons butter, softened

Combine sugar, flour, cornstarch and salt in top of double boiler. Add boiling water, stirring until smooth. Cook for 10 to 15 minutes, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Stir a little of hot mixture into beaten egg yolks. Add entire egg yolk mixture to hot mixture and cook 5 minutes, stirring. Blend in lemon juice and rind. Remove from heat. Add butter, stirring until melted. Cover filling tightly and let stand while preparing meringue.

3 egg whites 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar dash salt 1/2 teaspoon vanilla 6 1/2 tablespoons sugar, divided Chose from the following answers: Cooking the "old-fashioned way" means: A) preparing muffins without the Jiffy Mix; B) mixing in real shredded cheddar with the macaroni and cheese; or C) passing the microwave manual down to the next generation.

Gertrude Sitlington Hargreaves, a Canton Township resident, can supply a more authentic look at old-time cooking methods. Passed down from her mother and her grandmother, her cookbook dates back to 1903.

Hargreaves says the book was compiled by the Lady Maccabees, a Canton Township lodge organization. When the cookbook was printed, she said, the group used an old Presbyterian church on Sheldon Road and Michigan Avenue as headquarters.

Today, only a small portion of Hargreaves' copy remains.

All of the recipes were donated by residents of the farming community. Most people offered cake ingredients, but the book also contains recipes for sherbet, catsup, salads, pies and dandelion wine.

When the recipes include instructions, the terminology is somewhat different than that used today. One common term is "flour to handle."

"It means you have to put enough flour in to roll it. You just have to try, Hargreaves said. "Most farmers in the area had their own flour made. It was a different texture."

Also, lard is a common ingredient in these recipes. In most cases, vegetable shortening can be substituted.

Hargreaves said many of the recipes simply list ingredients. Technique is up to the cook.

"There are no instructions how to do it. I saw my mother and my grandmother make these things and I learned...A lot of this is just passed down."

Hargreaves places great value on family tradition. For the past 10 years, she has been researching her family history, learning about relatives dating back to the 1700s.

She said her "Grandfather Sitlington" was a carpenter. His last project was a schoolhouse still sitting near the Canton Township police station.

The recipe book she treasures contains a piece of community history. Below is a sampling from the book.

Molasses layer cake

1 cup molasses 1/2 cup sugar 2 eggs 4 tablespoons butter teaspoon cinnamon 1 teaspoon cloves 1 teaspoon baking soda 1/2 cup buttermilk 2 cups flour filling of jelly or anything desired

Instructions are not included

Frosting

1 cup sweet cream (or cream cheese) 1 1/4 cup sugar 1/2 cup margarine 1 1/2 cups chopped walnuts or hazel nuts

Fried cakes

3 eggs 2 cups sugar Butter the size of a large egg 2 cups buttermilk 1 teaspoon baking soda A little nutmeg Enough flour to roll thin

Combine ingredients and roll thin. Cut out shapes. Cook in deep fryer or skillet with at least one inch of hot oil or shortening.

3 quarts blossoms 4 quarts boiling water 3 pounds sugar 2 lemons 2 oranges

Bring four quarts of water to boil and pour over blossoms. Let stand overnight. Squeeze out the blossoms and add three pounds sugar. Bring mixture to boil. Chop up lemons and oranges and place in crock. Pour on hot liquor. When cold add half of a yeast cake. Let mixture stand 12 days, then put in bottles for use.

Well-known pie place strives for added attention

By FLORENCE MEEKS ANP Staff Writer

Blazo's Family Restaurant in Westland has already established a reputation for tempting homemade pies.

Now, the restaurant is striving toward recognition for the rest of the menu.

"It's always been known for the pies," said owner John McEvilly. "You could talk to someone in Grosse Pointe, they would know about the pies."

Blazo's, which has been around nearly 20 years, established a new menu last month. Customers can opt for corn beef sandwiches, roast beef melts, shrimp dinners, meat loaf or beefy chili and then eat their pies.

"Everything we make is from scratch," McEvilly said.

The new menu contains more than 30 sandwich selections, including chicken breast, reubens, bacon cheeseburgers and the melts.

Melts are new to the Blazo's menu. Each is served with grilled sourdough bread with a slice of melted cheese on top. The beef melt contains roast beef with cheese and grilled onions

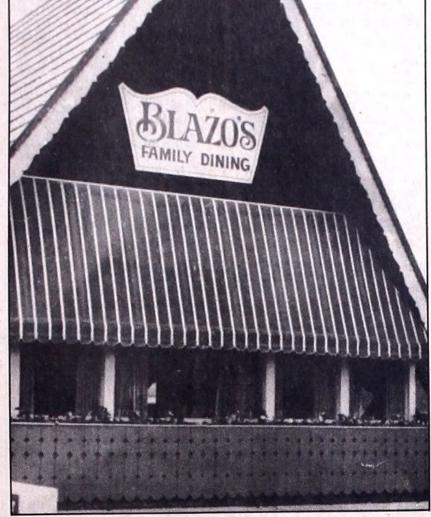

Also popular are the hamburgers - regular, cheese, frisco and bacon and cheese.

"They're all generous sandwiches," McEvilly said.

Burgers are fresh ground and 6 ounces with no resemblance to fast food products, he added.

Currently, the new menu offers nine a la carte dinner selections, but McEvilly plans to expand them to 15. He said meat loaf is one of the most popular new choices.

Blazo's also offers a break-

Sweetheart dinner to benefit charity

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER ANP Belleville City Editor

The annual Sweetheart's Buffet Dinner, slated Feb. 20 at the Tin Lizzie in Belleville, will provide an extra benefit for those who attend – proceeds of the dinner will be donated to fund cystic fibrosis research programs.

For the past five years, CF project coordinator Richard Estermyer has hosted the annual fund-raiser and arranged a raffle to benefit victims of the respiratory and digestive disease that attacks children and young adults.

"Cystic fibrosis is a disease that takes hold at birth and nevCystic fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children and young adults, and has been referred to as the 'polio of the 80s.' – Richard Estermyer CF coordinator er lets go. Many children with this incurable disease will not live to adulthood," the CF coordinator said. "Those who do will face severe problems with the things we take for granted – health care, employment, marriage and family planning."

Estermyer noted that cystic fibrosis occurs once in every 1,600 live births, with most victims living into their twenties – the age when life should be beginning, not ending.

"Cystic fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children and young adults, and has been referred to as the 'polio of the 80s.' However, it can be eliminated, because scientists have discovered the defective gene within the last year, and with this discovery they will be able to improve treatment. They believe a cure is not too far away," Estermyer said.

"Any support that is given will help. For example, proceeds from the Feb. 20 dinner will benefit the CF Research Center at the University of Michigan Hospital, part of the team that contributed to the discovery of the defective gene."

A buffet dinner, featuring chicken, fish, spaghetti and pizza,will be served between 4:30 and 9 p.m. Tickets are $8.50 for adults, $4.50 for children 12 and younger, and $1 for children 4 and younger.

All tickets will be sold in advance, and are available at the Tin Lizzie plus several other Belleville area locations. Interested people may call 461-6484 for ticket information.
